

EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

INTRODUCTION OF H. RES. 451
CALLING FOR PEACE, JUSTICE, AND STABILITY IN KOSOVA

HON. BENJAMIN A. GILMAN

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 29, 2000

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, on behalf of a distinguished group of co-sponsors, I am today introducing a Resolution of the House calling for a review of our policies in Kosova so that we can consider changes in order to fulfill the goal of our government and of the international community in bringing about conditions for a lasting, just, and stable peace for its beleaguered people.

Recent reports from Kosova indicate that our effort there is not progressing well. We are introducing this resolution to suggest areas of this effort that need to be immediately addressed to improve our prospects for success.

The continued detention in Serbia of thousands of Kosovar Albanians, many of whom are doctors, lawyers and teachers, has dismayed the Kosovar people who believed that, when NATO ended its operation against Serbia and declared victory, the abuses of their human rights by the brutal regime of Slobodan Milosevic would also end. Now, more than nine months later, the families and friends of those illegally imprisoned still suffer the anguish of separation and uncertainty as to the fate of their loved ones. The continuation of this outrageous situation has undermined the faith of the Kosovar people in the international community's commitment to human rights and is a major source of the unrest that continues to frustrate our objective of establishing full peace in Kosova.

Similarly, the situation in the divided city of Mitrovica, has also undermined the effort to bring peace to Kosova. Thousands of Kosovar ethnic Albanians have been unable to return to their homes in the northern part of Mitrovica since the beginning of the NATO peacekeeping mission last June. Hundreds more have been driven from their homes by Serb residents assisted by Serbian paramilitaries since NATO established its presence. The injustice of this situation calls into question our credibility when the international community speaks of respect for human rights, ending ethnic cleansing, and adhering to UN Resolution 1244, which if enforced, would have prevented this.

Efforts to re-start the economy of Kosova have not borne fruit. We believe that this is mostly the product of a flawed approach on the part of the United Nations Administration in Kosova and the European Union which has taken on the responsibility for economic reconstruction there. The people of Kosova have demonstrated their business acumen and their entrepreneurial abilities despite a decade of apartheid-like conditions under Serbian misrule. What they need is economic empowerment, not charity through well-intentioned, but misguided conventional assistance projects. The UN should not allow the question of the ultimate political status of Kosova, impede Kosova's economy. The people of Kosova should be given access to all of Kosova's economic assets—electric grids, agricultural properties, and, most important, to the Trepca mines—the single most valuable economic asset in Kosova.

As support for the international effort in Kosova is being undermined by the slow pace of change, this resolution is being introduced to point to a different course for the international community. Withdrawal is not an option. We believe that consideration of an alternative approach, hopefully one that can genuinely achieve our espoused objectives—lasting peace, justice, and stability for Kosova, and therefore for the Balkans—is the correct policy. As Senator JOHN MCCAIN eloquently stated on March 21, 2000, "Despite the unacceptable circumstances of the weak and endangered peace in Kosovo, it is infinitely preferable to the widespread atrocities committed during the course of Serbian aggression, atrocities that would surely reoccur were NATO to fail in our current mission."

I invite my colleagues in the House of Representatives to join in supporting this critical resolution.

H. RES. 451

Whereas on June 10, 1999, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) military air operation in the former Yugoslavia victoriously concluded with the withdrawal of all Serbian police, paramilitary, and military forces from Kosova;

Whereas, shortly following the NATO victory, nearly 1,000,000 refugees and hundreds of thousands of internally displaced persons attempted to return to their homes in Kosova in the belief that a peaceful, stable, and just society would be created through their diligent efforts, supported by the international community;

Whereas United Nations Security Council Resolution 1244 (June 10, 1999) established the United Nations Mission in Kosovo (UNMIK) as the sole administration of the province until such time as its political status is decided;

Whereas some 2,000 citizens were illegally detained and kidnapped to Serbia by Serbian forces as they withdrew from Kosova in violation of the Geneva Conventions and international humanitarian law;

Whereas a provision requiring the return of these illegally detained citizens of Kosova was dropped from the Military Technical Agreement negotiated between NATO and the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia in order to end the conflict more expeditiously;

Whereas an additional 5,000 Kosova citizens are believed to be detained in Serbian prisons;

Whereas hundreds of Kosova Albanian citizens have been prevented from returning to their homes in the divided city of Mitrovica by Serb Kosova citizens who are believed to be assisted by Serb paramilitaries who have illegally re-entered Kosova;

Whereas the present international peacekeeping force in Mitrovica has proven inadequate to perform the task of maintaining peace and eliminating wide scale human rights violations in that town, and there have been allegations of partiality to Serb residents by elements of the peacekeeping force;

Whereas recent violence in Mitrovica led to the expulsion of hundreds more Albanians from their homes who have been unable to return;

Whereas more than nine months following the establishment of UNMIK, adequate services such as police, sanitation, telecommunications, electricity, and water supply for the citizens of Kosova still are not reliably available throughout the province;

Whereas Albanian citizens of Kosova have been prevented by the United Nations from utilizing major economic assets in Kosova such as the Trepca mine that could provide needed stimulus to the economy of Kosova;

Whereas persistent deprivation and the creation of an aid economy that is contradictory to development of a flourishing free market economy is fostering criminality;

Whereas, in view of the disproportionate share of the military costs borne by the United States during the NATO operation, the European Union has agreed that it will undertake the major share of the costs for economic reconstruction in Kosova;

Whereas the European Commission and the World Bank have estimated the costs for the reconstruction of Kosova over the next 4 to 5 years at 2,300,000,000, with nearly half that amount available to be spent by the end of 2001;

Whereas the Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations Act, 2000 (as enacted by section 1000(a)(2) of Public Law 106-113) capped United States contributions for economic reconstruction in Kosova at 15 percent of the total; and

Whereas despite its generous pledges, the European Union has been dilatory in actually disbursing urgently required funds for Kosova: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That—

(1) the European Union should disburse its pledged funds for Kosova more rapidly;

(2) pledged funds by the European Union required to provide baseline services for Kosova such as police, sanitation, water, telecommunications, and electrical supply should be made available immediately, and the administration of these services should be put in the hands of the people of Kosova at the earliest possible date;

(3) the strategy for economic reconstruction in Kosova should be focused on utilizing private investment and empowerment of the people of Kosova to take charge of their livelihoods instead of fostering their reliance on donated assistance;

(4) the United States Government should make it a priority to promote noncorrupt government and business practices in Kosova by providing judicial training and technical advice and assistance to police, border police, and customs officers;

● This "bullet" symbol identifies statements or insertions which are not spoken by a Member of the Senate on the floor.

Matter set in this typeface indicates words inserted or appended, rather than spoken, by a Member of the House on the floor.

(5) the United Nations Security Council should demand the immediate and unconditional return of all Kosova citizens from Serbia; and

(6) a more capable international peace-keeping force should be established in Mitrovica so that all residents are able to return in security to their homes.

CONGRATULATING DAN GERAWAN
AND RICK SCHELLENBERG

HON. GEORGE RADANOVICH

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 29, 2000

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Dan Gerawan of Gerawan Farming and Rick Schellenberg of Schellenberg Farms for their part in "reinventing government," by helping to develop a new fruit inspection program known as "Partners in Quality" (PIQ), in Reedley, California. "Partners in Quality" was initiated in California's tree fruit industry in 1998. It is a voluntary program designed to increase the quality of fruit and decrease the amount paid to the United States Department of Agriculture's inspectors. Participants in the program must prove to the USDA that their in-house quality control is good enough to stand on its own, without the need of continuous USDA inspection. Once the packinghouse has proven itself, the USDA periodically audits the packing house instead of inspecting the fruit continuously. Once the packing house volunteers for this program, the USDA imposes stricter tolerances on the participants than on the regular inspection procedures, to ensure a higher quality.

Rick Schellenberg, with the help of Dan Gerawan, spearheaded the implementation of PIQ for the packing industry. The Partners in Quality team includes several USDA and state agricultural department officials, as well as members of the California pear and Florida citrus industry.

Mr. Speaker, I want to congratulate Dan Gerawan and Rick Schellenberg for their part in reinventing government. I urge my colleagues to join me in wishing Dan and Rick many more years of continued success.

IN HONOR OF MONSIGNOR EDWARD J. HAJDUK FOR BEING SELECTED AS THE BAYONNE CONTINGENT MARSHAL OF THE 2000 TRI-STATE PULASKI DAY PARADE

HON. ROBERT MENENDEZ

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 29, 2000

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Monsignor Edward J. Hajduk, pastor of St. Henry's Roman Catholic Church in Bayonne for being selected as the Bayonne Contingent Marshal of the 2000 tri-state Pulaski Day Parade.

Born and raised in Bayonne, Monsignor Hajduk established his faith and resolve at a young age through guidance from his parents, the late John and Mary Hajduk, and an education devoted to the Catholic faith. He received his undergraduate degree in Theology from Seton Hall University, his graduate degree in Theology from the Catholic University of America, and was awarded an M.S.E. degree from the graduate division of Pastoral Counseling at Iona College.

For almost half a century, since the day he was ordained in 1953, Monsignor Hajduk's extraordinary dedication to his church and his community has been unparalleled. Moreover, his unwavering commitment to youth has allowed him to provide spiritual guidance to generations of young people, enriching their lives and strengthening their faith.

Monsignor Hajduk's service to the church has allowed him to contribute to the development and direction of the Catholic faith in general, and the Archdiocese of Newark in particular. Since 1953, Monsignor Hajduk served as: the parochial vicar of Sacred Heart in Lyndhurst; Bergen County Catholic Youth Organization moderator; a member of the Theology Department of Felician College; the youth director of the Archdiocese of Newark; chaplain to Pope John Paul II; administrator of the St. James Parish in Newark; rector of Sacred Heart Cathedral; parochial vicar at St. Mary's in Dumont; dean of the Central Bergen Deanery; and until 1992, pastor of St. Hedwig's in Elizabeth. He has also contributed to parish evaluation and reorganization, and has helped with church renovations.

For his extraordinary dedication to the Roman Catholic Church and his commitment to the City of Bayonne, I ask my colleagues to join me in congratulating Monsignor Hajduk on his many accomplishments, and for being selected as the Contingent Marshal of the 2000 tri-state Pulaski Day Parade.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. CHARLES H. TAYLOR

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 29, 2000

Mr. TAYLOR of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, due to a flight cancellation, I was unavoidably detained in North Carolina yesterday and unable to cast a vote on rollcall votes 76, 77, 78 and 79. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea" on rollcall vote 76, On the Motion to Suspend the Rules and Pass H.R. 2412. I would have voted "yea" on rollcall vote 77, On the Motion to Suspend the Rules and Agree, as Amended, to H. Con. Res. 292. I would have voted "yea" on rollcall vote 78, On the Motion to Suspend the Rules and Agree to H. Con. Res. 269. I would have voted "yea" on rollcall vote 79, to Agree to the Senate Amendments to H.R. 5, the Senior Citizens' Freedom to Work Act. I ask unanimous consent that the permanent record reflect these intended votes.

IN HONOR OF THE 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF MARKET DAY

HON. JUDY BIGGERT

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 29, 2000

Mrs. BIGGERT. Mr. Speaker, for those who believe that one person cannot make a difference, I offer you the story of Trudi Temple and Market Day, the nation's first and only fundraising food cooperative, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year.

I am sure that many of my colleagues know about, and have even participated in, Market Day. Market Day donates a minimum of 10 percent of the purchase price of restaurant-quality food products to the school or community organization from which they were purchased. Proceeds from Market Day sales are used by schools and community organizations to fund a variety of expenditures, including computers, fine arts programs, playground equipment, assemblies, books, and field trips.

How important has this been to our nation's schools? Well, in the last 25 years, Market Day has raised $250 million, benefiting more than two million school children nationwide.

But before all these schools could reap the benefits of Market Day, someone first had to come up with this great idea. And what makes this so near and dear to my heart is that the story of Market Day begins in 1973 at Walker Elementary School in Clarendon Hills, Illinois—in the heart of my 13th Congressional District.

Trudi Temple was asked by her daughter to bake a cake for the school's annual fundraiser. Instead of a cake, Trudi brought cases of fresh produce to school. The produce was a hit with the kids, faculty, and parents—such a hit, in fact, that it led to the school's first "Produce Day" the following week.

Before long, "Produce Day" evolved into Market Day and other Chicago area schools selected the program as their primary fundraiser. Now it serves more than 6,000 schools and other community groups in 20 metropolitan areas across the United States.

We all know the challenges that our schools face in educating our children—and often additional funding is needed to overcome these challenges. In these days of tight budgets and property tax caps, schools must turn to non-traditional funding sources. Thanks to Trudi Temple and Market Day, schools have at least one more way to help improve our children's educational experience.

So I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring Market Day on its 25th anniversary and extending a word of thanks on behalf of the millions of students Market Day has helped.

TRIBUTE TO JOHN HANSAN

HON. TONY P. HALL

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 29, 2000

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, today I pay tribute to John E. Hansan, a pioneer in the field of social policy and a tireless advocate
